CENTRAL VALLEY COMMUNITY BANK ANNOUNCES COMMERCIAL LENDING, OPERATIONS AND IT EXECUTIVES

FRESNO, CALIFORNIA...April 7, 2022...James J. Kim, President and CEO of Central Valley Community Bank (CVCB), is pleased to announce David Allumbaugh, Senior Vice President, Relationship Manager, has joined the Central Valley Commercial Lending team. Additionally, Matthew Johnson, Vice President, Information Technology Manager, and Jeff Anderson, Vice President, Electronic Banking Operations Manager, have joined CVCB in Operations.

David Allumbaugh, an accomplished senior-level financial services professional, is known for his leadership, business development acumen and customized approach to helping clients achieve their goals. He is responsible for deepening existing and developing new commercial lending opportunities for businesses in a wide range of industries. David can be reached directly at (559) 221-2761.

Matthew Johnson brings over 25 years of information technology and project management expertise to CVCB. He is responsible for leading and managing CVCB's strategic initiatives relative to technology.

Jeff Anderson, a financial services industry leader with a decade of operations, compliance and electronic services expertise, is responsible for leading, developing and managing Electronic Banking operations and compliance efforts for the team. He ensures management of all policies, procedures and regulatory requirements.

“David's experience, client advocacy and creative problem-solving skills have already provided success for our Central Valley Commercial clients,” said Kim. “Additionally, the addition of Matthew and Jeff to our IT and Electronic Banking Departments is helping to advance our goals to exceed client expectations through service-driven technology. Each of these leaders brings extensive experience, team leadership and the desire to invest their service time in our communities.”
